

Nature Conference Badges

Printed on specialty materials, the Nature Conference Badges follow the specifications in this graphical guide. Since the material is full of slight texture, such as fibers or straw residue, the printing cannot cover the whole surface area of the badge. Safety margins are necessary for the best printing and cutting results. We recommend printing only the essential information and small areas with graphics, as the texture will push through and is visible on all printed areas. Large surfaces of printed color are not recommended, resulting in uneven prints. Celebrate the material, not the print on Nature badges.
